SEA COAST ECHO, FRIDAY, JULY 4, 1952

Observations...

Don't forget to ring Thursday, July 10, on your calendar and make plans to attend the Chamber of Commerce meeting on that date because the future of this vital organization is at stake. Don't let your lack of interest bring about the death of an important part of your community.

Don't forget your contribution to the Bay St. Louis Teen-Age Club. Their annual drive for operating funds was launched Monday, July 1, and the youth of the City are asking your support.

Some of the sidewalks around town are sinking. One piece on the beach directly across from the A & G Theatre is really dangerous. It should be fixed before someone is seriously injured.

The Knights of Columbus will sponsor a dance Saturday night, July 5, at the K. C. Hall from 8:00 p. m. till 2:00 a. m. J. Maynard and his Dixielanders of New Orleans will furnish the music. Each member is allowed only two guest couples.

St. Claire's church in Waveland is sponsoring its annual church fair Saturday and Sunday, July 5 and 6 on Coleman avenue. Everyone is invited to attend. According to the committee in charge, there will be entertainment and fun for all ages.

The streets are beginning to look better now that the ditches are clean. Here's hoping our City officials will keep them that way all of the time.

YOUTH CENTER STARTS DRIVE

The Bay St. Louis Youth Center has started its annual drive for funds to operate the recreational facilities open to Hancock County teenagers. Money collected in this drive will be the main source of the youth center membership fees not nearly covering required expenses.

Business firms and individual donors brought last year's total to well over a thousand dollars. Can the people of Hancock County again show their fine interest in youth? Time will tell, and so will the columns of this paper. Each week donors and the funds raised through that week will be recorded in the ECHO.

The drive will extend through July only, though, and everyone is urged to contribute immediately to this non-profit organization which sees that the young people of the city and county receive clean, wholesome recreation. Checks should be made payable to the Bay St. Louis Youth Center and may be mailed to either Mrs. Laurence Kergosien, 108 Carroll avenue, or Miss Sybil Koeniger, 636 North Beach Blvd.

Two Ordained At St. Augustine's Seminary

With the Most Rev. Richard O. Gerow, D. D., Bishop of Natchez, as ordaining prelate, the priesthood was conferred upon the Revs. Thaddeus Boucree, S. V. D., and Gerald Lewis, S. V. D., at St. Augustine's Seminary, Bay St. Louis, Tuesday, June 24, at 9:00 a. m.

Long before the ceremonies began, the seminary chapel was crowded to the floors with friends and relatives of the young men who were to be honored. There were about 40 priests and a score of sisters present for the occasion. The majority of the people in attendance came from the states of Louisiana, Mississippi, and Alabama; however, there were some individuals from as far away as Arizona, Missouri, New York and Pennsylvania without mentioning the mother of one of the ordinands who came from the Panama Canal Zone.

During the ceremonies, the Most Reverend Bishop was assisted by the Rev. Bernard Le Frois, S. V. D., and the Rev. Maurice Rousseau, S. V. D. The Master of Ceremonies was the Rev. Christian Baker, S. V. D.

The ceremony opened with a solemn procession from the Administration Building to the chapel. Upon entering the chapel, the hymn, Ecce Sacerdos Magnus, was sung by the Major Seminary Choir under the direction of Frater Paul Neale, S. V. D., Brother Stephen, S. V. D., was the organist.

The Bishop ascended the throne and donned his pontifical vestments in preparation for the Mass. After the major portion of the ordination ceremony proper had taken place, the newly ordained said the Mass in unison with the Bishop.

At the conclusion of the ceremonies, His Excellency addressed the congregation. Among other things he said: "This day is a happy day for the parents of the newly ordained. Their sons can offer the Sacrifice of the Mass and can preach the Gospel to the poor. They now have a son at the altar of God."

He continued and addressed a few words to the mothers who do not, at present, have sons studying for the priesthood; he said: "Mothers, encourage your sons, if you see an inclination towards the priesthood, and likewise do the same if you notice that your daughter has a vocation to the convent. The day may come when you will have a son at the altar of God and a daughter in the convent. What a joy this can be for any Catholic home, and family."

At noon a banquet was served in the refectory in honor of the new priests. The clergy, relatives, and close friends of the newly ordained participated. At the end of the feast, the Very Rev. William Bauer, S. V. D., Superior General of the Southern Province, gave a brief talk and read a message.

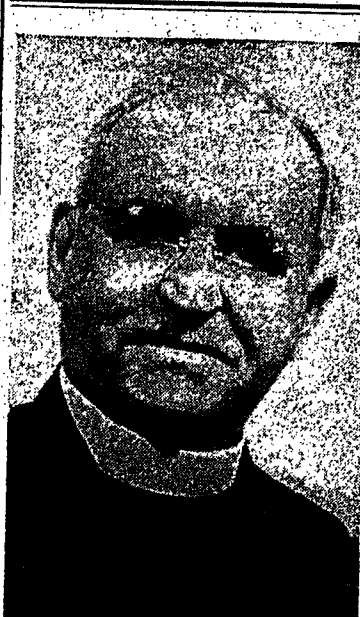

THE ORDAINISTS PROSTRATE THEMSELVES BEFORE THE ALTAR.

AG OFFICIALS VISIT COUNTY

C. J. McCormick, under secretary Department of Agriculture, and Larry Manwaring, deputy administrator of the agricultural conservation program, both of Washington, D. C., spent Friday, June 27, touring Hancock County with the county farm agent, Howard Simmons, and Fitzhugh Lee, county chairman Production and Farm Administration.

Mr. McCormick was impressed with the agricultural unit in Hancock County, particularly with the progress the county has made inasmuch as it is one of the most thinly populated counties in Mississippi and in the United States. He stated that two things are necessary in the agricultural field, the understanding between the urban and rural people of the agricultural program along this line. He highly commended the PMA program in Hancock County under the leadership of Mr. Lee.

Mr. McCormick further stated that since there is no new land to which to migrate the job of putting our present acreage to better use is vitally essential due to the fact that America's population is increasing at the rate of 700 persons a day, requiring 1600 additional tons of food per day to feed our own people.

Manwaring stated that there is no other county in the world where farmers are permitted to administer their own programs. And said that the living of the American farmer is higher than that of any other group in the world and this is true because they cooperate and work together with a definite goal in mind.

The tung trees were an added interest as this was new to the visiting officials.

THEATRE TO START SKINNER'S COMEDY

"Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," a delightfully youthful and fun-loving play by Cornelia Otis Skinner, will be the next production of the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre. The dramatized version is by Jean Kerr.

Producing and directing this play, which offers some exceptionally fine roles, will be Miss Margo Hand, a drama student at Bucknell University. The Little Theatre Board feels that Miss Hand's youth and vivacity will be an incentive to the young people who will participate in the production.

Casting tryouts will be held at 6:00 p. m. Sunday at the Little Theatre on Boardman avenue. Anyone who thinks he might fill a part in this play is urged to attend.

Comedy is the by-word throughout the play. Among the parts that will be cast are Cornelia Otis Skinner and Emily Kimbrough as the two young travelers bubbling over with the joy of living; Otis Skinner, Cornelia's theatrical father, and her exquisitely refined mother, Mrs. Skinner; Dick Winters and Leo McEvoy, two personable young men whom the girls meet on shipboard; Winifred St. John and Harriet Blough, crisp and cheery English women; a steward who is utterly confused by Cornelia and Emily; the officious purser; and an ingratiating admiral. In France, Cornelia recites for Monsieur de la Croix, the showy and over-dramatic actor from the Comedie Francaise, and at their Paris hotel, the girls meet an uninitiated window cleaner, the proprietress of the hotel, Madame Elise, and the petite maid, Therese.

Miss Carol Banderet accompanied her aunt, Mrs. Retta Cardin and her cousin for a two-week visit in Polaski, Tennessee.

VETERANS BILL BEFORE SENATE

The State Veterans' Affairs Commission released the following information about the "Korean GI Bill".

First - the so-called "Korean GI Bill" has not been enacted into a law as of the date of this release. It was passed by the House of Representatives some time ago with only one dissenting vote. It must now be voted on in the Senate and if passed there, approved by the President.

Second - it is not a "Korean Veterans Bill." The provisions of the Act, in its present form are applicable to any person who has served in the active service in the Armed Forces at any time since June 27, 1950 and has been discharged or released under conditions other than dishonorable. Active service in Korea is not required.

The basic provisions of the Act, as approved by the House of Representatives, are:

1. Grants 1 1/2 days of education or training for each day of service on or after June 27, 1950, regardless of where service was performed for a maximum period limited to 36 calendar months. This would take care of a 4 year academic college course. Veterans eligible under World War II program may take training under both World War II and Korean programs not to exceed 48 months.

2. The education or training program must be initiated within two years and completed within seven years after discharge.

3. Veterans may make one change in program and only one change.

4. Education and training allowance - $110 monthly for a veteran without dependents enrolled in full-time institutional course - $150 monthly if he has a dependent or dependents. For three-fourths time basis $80 and $110, respectively. Half-time basis - $50 and $70. From this allowance the veteran must pay his tuition, books, and subsistence and meet all other costs incident to his training.

For apprenticeship or other on-the-job training the rates are $70 and $95 - subject to reduction as the course progresses - overall monthly ceiling on earnings and allowances of $225 and $300, respectively.

Institutional on-the-job training allowances are $95 and $120 subject to reduction as the course progresses.

LOAN GUARANTY
Same benefits as presently available to World War II Veterans.

SOCIAL SECURITY
$160 per month wage credit for service since June 27, 1950 for the purpose of old-age and survivors insurance benefits.

MUSTERING OUT PAY
$100 for less than 60 days of service, $200 for more than 60 days, $300 for more than 60 days plus overseas service. Those with rank of over Captain in Army or Air Force or Lieutenant, Senior Grade in the Navy not eligible.

The above resume covers, of course, only the high points of this pending legislation.

It must be stressed this law has not been passed - it is pending.

WEEKLY NEWS LETTER

by
W. F. Bond, Director of Public Relations

A few years ago the state of Tennessee passed a law prohibiting its welfare department from considering children of applicants for old age assistance as a resource under any circumstances.

The result was that thousands of persons who never before thought of trying to get on the assistance payroll applied for help and had to be given monthly checks. When the people saw parents of bankes and other well-to-do persons drawing assistance checks from the public treasury, public opinion was so aroused that the next time the legislature met the law was repealed and during the following year 16,000 names were taken off the rolls. In Mississippi children are counted as a resource unless there has been a definite break between the parents and the children.

Congressional Sidelights

By - Gone Days

ADJOURNMENT

The drive for sine die adjournment of the Congress for July 5 is on. As is usually the case the House is, and has been, far in advance of the Senate, but that body for the past weeks has been in high gear with long sessions daily. Now this last week both houses are having night sessions which always occur during the last days before adjournment. For some weeks now it has been doubtful whether there would be an adjournment or a recess. But the heat of the political campaign together with the torrid heat of the weather has stimulated interest for a final adjournment.

The Republicans open their convention in Chicago July 7 to be followed on July 21 by the Democratic Convention in the same city.

TRUMAN OVERIDDEN AGAIN

The discussion between the legislative and executive departments was further emphasized in a strongly worded statement this past week when the President of the Congress vetoed the McCarran-Walter Immigration Bill. The Congress promptly reacted by overriding the Presidential veto. The controversy between the Executive and Legislative Branches of the Government on this question is an old one. The Congress maintained a more restrictive policy on immigration while the Chief Executive desired a more liberal policy.

However, there was a significant incident involved. The feud between the President and Senator McCarran of Nevada, the author of the bill, is an old one. But in the House it was a Northern Democrat, Congressman Francis Walter of Pennsylvania, the author of the House Bill, who blasted the President in the defense of the Congressional position. In a thirty-minute speech, advocating that the House override the Presidential veto, the Pennsylvania Democrat administered one of the strongest verbal spankings of the President that we have witnessed in our two decades of service here. He charged that the veto message was written by Presidential ghost writers and implied in no uncertain terms that the veto of the bill was made for political support from the CIO and left-wingers. All of this would not have been surprising coming from a Northern Republican or some Southern Democrat but from a Northern Democrat it was an entirely new experience. Result: to override 278 votes; against overriding 133 votes.

POW CLAIMS TO BE FILED

Under the provision of a law approved by the President on April 9 those World War II veterans who while prisoners of the German, Italian or Japanese governments were subjected to forced labor or cruel and inhumane treatment will be entitled to $1.50 a day for each such day of forced labor or cruel and inhumane treatment.

The War Claims Commission plans to mail claims forms for this additional $1.50 a day to all persons who have previously filed

FIFTY YEARS AGO

The Senate has confirmed the appointment of L. J. Piernas to be postmaster of Bay St. Louis. This finally settles the matter for four years. The salary is $1500 a year. To meet the demand, a section of sixty boxes has been ordered by the government for the local post office and will be installed immediately upon delivery.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO

No vent of the summer season attracts more interest to Bay St. Louis than the annual regatta given by the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club.

Saturday, July 16, is the date selected this year for the annual classic. Much interest is already manifested and it is expected there will be many people here from every point between New Orleans and Mobile.

Commodore John Edwards and Vice Commodore Bernard Shields and other officials of the local club are confident of great success from every standpoint and here is no reason to doubt the event will prove big.

At night the annual ball will take place at the club house, a fitting finale to the day of all days in local sport and social circles.

TEN YEARS AGO

At a meeting held in Jackson June 5, attended by two or three hundred people, representatives of state and local governments adopted a resolution which calls for vehicle operators, each, to make a voluntary pledge to drive at a speed of not more than forty miles per hour as a means of conserving rubber.

This meeting was called by Governor Paul B. Johnson as a precautionary measure against gas rationing in the state of Mississippi. Similar meetings were held throughout the state, with the hope that through the combined efforts and cooperation of the people as a whole, gas rationing as a means of rubber conservation, would not be necessary in this state. At least, not for the present.

FIVE YEARS AGO

The Bay St. Louis Rotary Club under the leadership of Dan M. Russell, Jr., as president, brought to a close one of its most progressive years on June 30. Russell, in addition to his duties as an attorney at law and president of the Rotary Club, is also president of the Chamber of Commerce and Hancock County Service Officer.

for the $1.00 a day payable to all former prisoners of war. In addition the State Veterans Affairs Commission for Mississippi will have a supplementary supply of these claims forms for distribution. These forms are not ready. None have yet been mailed to individual applicants. The War Claims Commission urges all former prisoners of war to be as patient as possible and gives the assurance that everything possible is being done to expedite the distribution of these forms. Any correspondence at this time to the War Claims Commission by persons who believe themselves to be entitled to this additional allowance might serve to delay definite action on their claims.

Russell is succeeded as president of the Rotary Club by Octave Delph.

ONE YEAR AGO

"There's no substitute for experience," Hugh White, candidate for governor, said when he spoke to Hancock Countians at the Courthouse, Tuesday, July 3.

White, who served as governor from 1938-40 and served in the State Legislature from 1943-47, is basing his campaign on his past record.

In closing his speech, White denied that he was in ill health and too old for the job. He mentioned that he was 69 years of age, and predicted that when the other candidates, who he claimed were spreading a rumor that he is too old, "see the results of the election they would say, 'White is the fastest running old man they had ever seen.'"

BAPTISTS TO HOLD STATE ASSEMBLY

Jackson, Miss., - July will be assembly time for Mississippi Baptists when hundreds of them from every section of the state will descend on Camp Garaywa, near Clinton, July 7-25, for three weeks of inspiration, recreation, study, instruction and relaxation. Outstanding leaders from Mississippi as well as over the South will have parts on the program. It has been announced by Dr. Chester L. Quarles, of Jackson, state Baptist executive secretary.

Absentee Landownership Hinders Beetle Control

Absentee landownership is threatening to seriously hamper the efforts of the Mississippi Forestry Commission in the application of effective control measures aimed at stopping the spread of the extremely dangerous Southern pine beetle, reports James W. Craig, state forester.

Persons owning land in Mississippi but residing elsewhere pose a problem in that prompt action must be taken to prevent the spread of the present epidemic. To aid in the elimination of this problem, Craig advises that persons in charge of such lands contact the owners immediately and impress upon them the importance of prompt control measures to prevent the spread of the beetle on their own property as well as that of their neighbors.

"In this way, should there be an attack, there would be no time lost and control action could begin immediately," Craig said.

Sound Money

There is the hue and cry for national defense as America mobilizes its resources and girds its economy to strengthen its sinews.

Never before, except in all-out war times, was the country so stirred and people in such a dither. Along with eternal threats to our security, we are in the sweat of another political campaign which always upsets our equilibrium.

But prosperity flows in a golden stream. Personal income, now running at an annual rate of $259 billion, may reach $270 billion by the end of the year. Building volume may reach a record of $31.5 billion for 1952 and there is virtually full employment at peak wages. Savings in banks are on the increase. Business is good.

In such piping times, why should anyone be worried? Why such nervous discontent over the country? Isn't it because workers, business men and investors are bothered over the uncertainty of everything—about Korea, about taxes and the shrinking of the value of their dollars? Men speak of the dangers of inflation. Haven't we already got a good dose of it? We grumble against excesses of government because we see so much of our money wasted.

We all know how essential national defense is to the security of the people. Planes, ships, guns and bombs are needed. But the solvency of a nation is just as necessary to its security as ammunition. Dollars are as indispensable as secret weapons if we are to be fully prepared. No nation can be strong unless it is financially fortified.

Sound money is as vital to our fighting strength as any of the other material employed. Modern warfare cannot be waged with a debased and debauched currency.

The American people have seen their taxes rise, the national debt mount, and the value of their money dwindle. They have every reason to demand of our public servants the elimination of waste, graft and gravity.

The first line of American defense is a sound economy. Our foremost weapons against Communism are material and money. We cannot continue to dish out our billions and long endure. No people can squander their substance and survive. Sound money and a solvent economy are essential to our national security. This is a good time to sweat and save.

Gasoline Tax Recorded

The state's gasoline tax for June ran to $3,206,475.93. It was announced in Jackson recently.

The gasoline tax, sole supporting revenue to the State Highway Department, yielded $1,414,469.33 to that agency. Further disbursements gave $1,012,556.92 to the counties for use by Boards of Supervisors.

Collections for May ran to $3,013,892.30 with June's total for last year amounted to $2,966,864.97.

PINE BEETLE INFESTS PARTS OF STATE

Because of the great danger of the rapidly spreading southern pine beetle epidemic now raging in southwest Mississippi, Dr. J. A. Beal, Chief, Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., made a special trip to Mississippi for the purpose of coordinating effective control measures between State and Federal agencies. A meeting was held Saturday morning in the office of State Forester James W. Craig to discuss plans for such coordination.

Dr. Beal revealed plans of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine to send a special plane and trained men to the infested areas to aid in locating the beetle. States Dr. Beal, "We feel that we can contribute most by locating 'hot spots' or definite areas of infestation."

R. Joseph Kowal, entomologist with the Bureau located at Gulfport, is bringing three or four experienced men in to help on the ground to answer questions as to correct control and work where they are needed most, whether it be on federal, state or private lands.

Schools are also being planned to instruct timber markers and cutters as to the proper method to cut and leave for the most effective control.

State Forester Craig stated that, "The critical factor in immediate utilization of infested timber."

Dr. Beal pointed out that there is no reason why infested material cannot be used as saw timber and pulpwood. He stated that industry had always cooperated well in controlling outbreaks with which he was familiar throughout the country.

He further stated that every landowner and forest industry has a stake in the control of this beetle and their cooperation is a necessity for effective control. Salvage of salable material is absolutely necessary for effective control from both a practical and economical standpoint.

In the last week the Mississippi Forestry Commission has added two area foresters to the southwest district and another man is to be added on July 7. The actions taken by the State Forestry Commission to date were gone over in detail and were given hearty approval by Dr. Beal. He was well pleased with the speed and completeness of the State effort.

Dr. Beal especially singled out the formation of the pine beetle control committee as being a definitely important step in administering proper control. "Such committees have been very instrumental in beetle control in other sections of the country," he added.

This committee is headed by James R. Clark. Other members are Fred Anderson, Jr., Sam

Moreton, Jr., Jack Kirby, Alvis Owen, John Thompson and Freeman Evans.

In summing up the seriousness of the situation Dr. Beal stated, "We know full well that this beetle moves with great speed. Time is the important factor. We must hit it fast and hit it hard."

COAST ALUMNI TO MEET NEW STATE MENTOR

Murray Warmath, who took over the head football coaching duties at Mississippi State earlier this year, along with amiable Bob Williams, alumni secretary, will be on the Coast Tuesday night, July 15. They will meet with the Coast Chapter of the Mississippi State Alumni at the East Side Community House in Gulfport at 7 p. m.

This will be the annual summer meeting of the 24th district, composed of Harrison, Hancock, Jackson and Stone Counties and a large attendance is expected. The program calls for an old-fashioned shrimp boil followed by a short business meeting highlighted by short talks by Coach Warmath and Bob Williams; as well as a film of the 1952 "Spring Festival" and spring football game at the campus.

All State alumni are urged to attend as this is Warmath's first trip to the Coast since assuming his duties. School officials have suggested that Alumni members bring along any high school students who may be future State students.

In order that attendance may be estimated and planned for, alumni are requested to notify their county president, Sid Rice of Harrison; James Ansley of Hancock; J. C. Stone of Jackson and Otto Rowell of Stone, or Leo Seal, Jr., district president or Paul LaCoste, district secretary, if they intend to come.

Home Agents NotesSun And Exertion Can Be Dangerous

By MADGE ALLRED

July 4—the day this column will reach many of you in your newspapers—is a traditional day of picnics, swimming, watermelon cuttings, chicken fries—a good ole American holiday of fun, speeches and frolic.

And as traditionally it's a day of high temperatures. You don't want to mar your holiday with sunstroke, heat exhaustion or food poisoning from improperly handled or refrigerated foods. And you don't want insect bites and poison oak to make you miserable for days after your outing.

To avoid sunstroke and heat exhaustion, curb that excitement and don't try to do all your playing at once. Gradually build up your resistance to the sun and heat. You can't do it in one day. Blistered backs and sore muscles have remained with many of us a long time. A little sun and exercise are fine, but too much spoils any vacation or holiday.

Scratching caused by red bugs, other insects and poisonous weeds causes irritation and infection. Take along with you rubbing alcohol and some type of medicated powder to relieve itching. This applies to vacations of a week or two as well as the July 4 holiday or weekend.

Hot Weather Foods. Be extremely careful as to proper refrigeration and storage of foods during hot weather. Protect foods from flies and other insects because they deposit filth wherever they walk.

Vacations, holidays and periods of relaxation are important to every family. Every member of your family will want to enjoy July 4 and every summer holiday with a minimum of aches and pains. Be careful and on the watch for over-exertion and exposure—at work as well as at play.

SUMMER CURTAINS

If you plan to freshen your white or light-colored summer curtains with a tint-bath, be sure you remember to launder them first to remove any spots. You will want to mend any small holes or pulled places, too. Then be sure to choose an all purpose dye guaranteed for all types of fabrics.

INSTALLMENT BUYING

There are a few points you will always want to consider before you decide to use the installment plan for buying. First, will the goods you buy in this way be worn out before you make the final payment? Second, will the goods conserve time and energy for you, as a washing machine, churn, sweeper, stove? Third, will the goods justify the total cost? Fourth, are the goods both durable and essential?

Before making plans to buy goods on the installment plan, check your budget to see if you have any credit. Without credit, the only thing left is to go in debt. Credit is only a temporary substitute for cash.

You might ask, "What is the answer to this question, you might difference in credit and debt?" To make a list or a budget of your regular living expenditures, future large expenditures that you know are coming up, and the amount of money necessary to pay your debts. In other words, take stock of your "financial cupboard."

If you have anything left over this amount, that will be your credit capacity. If there is nothing left and you make your plans to buy regardless, you are getting into debt.

Before you buy goods on installment, you must sign a contract. This contract should state the specific amount of cash payment you must make each month until the final payment is completed. When payments cannot be met, the consumer loses the goods plus the money paid out for the goods. The title of ownership belongs to the seller until final payment is made.

Before signing a contract, make sure that you understand all you are signing. Always read before signing.

CONTROL FLIES TO AID CATTLE

County Agent's Notes

Fly control is a big part of Summer beef management. Cattle may make as much as 50 pounds per head more gain during the pasture season if flies are controlled. Dehorn all calves needing dehorning and castrate all bull calves without delay. Take precautions to prevent screw worm damage after dehorning and castrating activity. Use either E. Q. 335 or U. S. Smear 62.

Vaccinate all calves against blackleg and other prevalent diseases. Castrating, dehorning and vaccinating can all be done at the same time to save labor. Make sure that your livestock have access to plenty of water and salt.

PASTURE TIPS

Use the electric fence to separate permanent pasture areas to keep down overgrazing. Use it to divide temporary grazing crops so that one side can be grazed while the other side is being rested. Make sure that all pastures have plenty of shade, water, and salt. Plan to cut a hay crop in July from newly planted Dallis with lespedeza. Then graze it later.

COTTON INSECT CONTROL

Is your cotton looking pretty and fruiting heavily? Maybe so, but you had better check it.

Now is a good time to make boll weevil infestation counts. A good way to do this is to walk across a field diagonally examining 100 squares for damage. Make at least two counts per field. The number of squares showing damage out of the 100 checked gives you your infestation rate for that field.

If more than 15 out of the 100 squares show the typical "brown tip" of a boll weevil puncture, it is time to do something about it.

Make at least three applications of insecticide at four or five day intervals; then make infestation counts once or twice a week to tell if you need to poison any more.

While you are checking for boll weevil damage don't forget about boll worms. You will find them in the tops of the plants, or terminal buds. When you find as

Is it time for another Declaration of Independence?

The men who wrote the first one struggled to put new ideas into simple words. Humbly, they tried to set down clearly certain rights of man that could be called God-given, and hard-to-say things of a spiritual nature—truth, equality, freedom.

And the words came alive, and the ideas shone clear. The idea that each man is more important than his government; his independence more precious than his security; his spiritual strength more lasting than his armies.

Upon these ideas, a nation grew great.

There are always people who fear such ideas—even today, even in America. These people feel that man cannot be trusted with his destiny. They are working to make government the master—instead of the servant—of the people.

Their distrust of the individual has spread frighteningly in the past few years.

It can be stopped by ideas—the same ideas spelled out in the Declaration of Independence.

It's time for all of us, privately and in public, to declare once again our independence—to speak up for freedom, and against anything that threatens it.

The trend toward more and more government controls is a threat to every business, every individual. That's why we bring you this message.

LANDRY ATTENDING ACK-ACK SCHOOL

James K. Landry, Sr., student at Mississippi State College, son of Mrs. Thelma Landry, 158 Coleman Avenue, Waveland, is attending the annual Antiaircraft Artillery Reserve Officers Training Corps Summer Camp at Fort Bliss, Texas, as part of the training requirements for a commission in the Army Organized Reserve Corps.

While at Fort Bliss he will spend six weeks living under field conditions during which time he will receive practical instruction in the service and firing of small arms and antiaircraft artillery weapons.

In addition to firing the latest 40-mm automatic weapons and the heavy 90-mm antiaircraft cannon, the 1100 cadets attending the 1952 Camp will receive instruction in the Army's new guided missiles and latest radar equipment.

Senior ROTC cadets from 30 colleges and universities from all over the country and as far away as Puerto Rico are attending the AAA camp this year.

Fort Bliss is located on the Mexican Border of West Texas, adjacent to the city of El Paso and the Mexican city of Juarez.
